

Becoming a Green Halo Partner

Natural capital

What nature gives us for free

Our Vision

A global exemplar of precious landscapes working in harmony with a thriving economy
and community

Our Mission

To put natural capital at the heart of:

-  Enhancing the natural environment
-  Supporting the local economy
-  Improving health and wellbeing
-  Encouraging sustainable living

Become a Green Halo Partner

You'll be at the centre of thinking and action around natural capital – one of Government's key policy approaches for the environment.

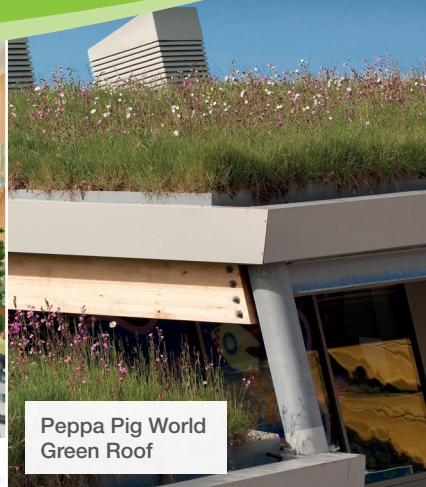

You'll be invited to network with those who are leading the field.

You'll help shape how businesses and communities can create a sustainable future for our natural world.

You'll find opportunities to work with like-minded organisations on projects which can help tackle big issues using a natural capital approach.

Partner responsibilities

By becoming a partner, we ask that you sign up to our vision and commit to playing an active part in some or all of the following:

Inspire

Delivering examples of successful natural capital projects

Encourage

Bringing together partners to develop new projects

Support

Helping to identify resources, offering advice, sharing best practice

Inform

Promoting research and awareness of natural capital benefits

Our partners are encouraged to:

- Use the Green Halo Partnership logo on their website and link to the partnership website
- Join the Green Halo Partnership LinkedIn group
- Contribute to the partner website and communications by sharing new ideas, data, best practices and other relevant news related to natural capital
- Attend and contribute to Green Halo and satellite events
- Update the partnership on their natural capital activities to support the mapping of projects
- Promote the work of the partnership
- Advocate for natural capital approaches.

Joining the Partnership

On joining the Partnership, members are asked to send their logo as confirmation of their commitment to the vision and responsibilities. We'll only ever use your logo to show you are a partner, and for no other purpose.

In return, you will be sent a certificate, invitation to join the Green Halo LinkedIn group, marketing toolkit and regular email newsletters with updates and events.
