

Keep your distance

Please don't approach
or feed livestock

Although owned by local people called Commoners, these animals are free to roam throughout the open areas of the forest.

There is plenty of natural food and it's important they don't come to rely on handouts from people.

Cows may look friendly but are very protective of their calves. Please stay away from livestock and if you have a dog, keep it under control.

